Attached is the information on the Aceto container located at the facility; there is only one with their label on it. It appears the contents of the drum may be trash.

Subject: FW: Superior Barrel and Drum Site Elk, Gloucester County, NJ- Request for 30 day extension and drum photos

Hi guys,

Can you forward any pictures of the Aceto labeled drum? They are requesting it. They have no information related to any relationship with Superior Barrel and they are hoping that by getting the pictures it will help in their search for any records related to this. Thanks for your help. Thanks, Bonnie

As we discussed, this email respectfully requests a 30 day extension to the EPA 104 for the subject site.

Also, please forward the photograph(s) of the Aceto drum you mentioned that was found at the site.

Hi Mike,

The drum is filled with debris, so the chemical that may have been present inside of the drum is no longer in there.

Attached is an additional photo. I will send each one in a separate email due to file size. After you review them let me know if you still need additional pictures. I hope this helps! -Bonnie

Hi Bonnie,

Thank you for the nexus information.

We are researching the product and possible customers based on the information provided. Would you have another photo of this drum perhaps from a better angle as some of the information on the bottom of the picture is not legible. Is it possible for you take another picture, including all the labeling information?

Many Thanks.
Mike
